

DOCTOR RAYMOND PAU WITH PINKHAM, RESIGNS OFFICES

Maui Medico Calls Governor Ingrate and Double-crosser
of His Last Friend

TELLS OF MEANS BY WHICH HE SAVED EXECUTIVE BACON

Spent $2000 In Fight In Washington and Is Ditched
On His Return

(From Wednesday Advertiser)

Dr. J. H. Raymond of Maui, one of the leading Democrats of Hawaii and hitherto one of the few staunch supporters of Governor Pinkham, yesterday broke definitely and finally with the Governor and resigned from all territorial positions which he held by appointment of Pinkham.

"I'm pau with Mr. Pinkham," said Doctor Raymond yesterday afternoon. "I'll have nothing more to do with him. I'll not hold any office under him. I'll not support him any longer and I shall have no further interest in politics. If I were President of the United States, I wouldn't treat a poundmaster the way Pinkham has treated me."

The parting of the ways came yesterday morning when Doctor Raymond called at the Governor's office and was curtly refused an audience with Pinkham.

Raymond, who says he came to Honolulu on private business, went to the Governor's office and sent in his name with the statement that he would like to see Governor Pinkham.

"The Governor didn't even have the courtesy to come out and shake hands and tell me himself that he was busy and ask me to call again," said Doctor Raymond. He just sent out word by his stenographer that he was busy and couldn't see me."

Governor Really Busy Now

At that, it is probable the Governor was busy. He has been spending much of his time the past few days addressing Christmas cards to the electorate. Some he has addressed by his office, but a great many he insists upon addressing in his own handwriting, saying that undoubtedly the recipients will feel more honored if they know that the Governor of the Territory has with his own hand written their names on the envelopes.

Doctor Raymond talked freely yesterday when asked for an account of the Governor's curt refusal to see him, and of whatever might have led up to it. He told a story of "ingratitude," of being "double-crossed" by Governor Pinkham and of a long series of "insults" and slights with which the Governor had repaid his work in behalf of the Democratic party and more particularly in behalf of Governor Pinkham himself. Doctor Raymond told a consecutive story of his dealings with the Governor which is enlightening.

When, at the time of the Democratic primary last spring, L. L. McCandless and his faction of the Democratic party, launched a vigorous and systematic attack upon Governor Pinkham, Raymond, according to his own statement, went to the aid of the Governor. Although he could ill afford the time and money, he went into the campaign as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National convention.

To Assist Governor

"I did this simply to aid the Governor," said Raymond. "And I was elected, the only man who was elected. But the McCandless faction cheated me out of it, the central committee refusing to issue credentials to me."

"Governor Pinkham at that time wrote to me several times, urging me to go to Washington and St. Louis and fight my case before the credentials committee. I wrote back that I couldn't do it, that I couldn't afford either the time or the money. The Governor insisted. I sent my step daughter to Honolulu and told her to tell the Governor that I simply couldn't go—but that, if it were absolutely necessary I'd be game and go anyhow."

"The Governor insisted, and I borrowed the money from the bank and went. It cost me $2000—delegates are paid, but as you know, I was turned down, the committee adhering to its rule to recognize only delegates accredited by the central committee."

"I returned to Hawaii. Then the election campaign came on and, purely to help the Governor and maintain a semblance of a Democratic organization on Maui, I ran for the senate. I knew I had absolutely no chance of being elected in that Republican stronghold, with all the Baldwins and strong money against me. But at that, I had to fight the entire Republican party of the Territory, for they sent Breckons and all their other big men over to Maui to help beat me. It took them all to do it, too."

DR. J. H. RAYMOND

"I managed to get four men to run on the Democratic ticket for the house. They were all weak and didn't help me a bit, but I had to carry them. One of them paid a part of his own expenses. The expenses of the three others I paid, as well as my own. Governor Pinkham didn't contribute one cent, although I was working simply in his interest."

"The law requires a candidate to resign from all territorial offices. I was chairman of the territorial land board, member of the Maui loan fund commission and a member of the board of supervisors. I had been appointed to the latter position to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Philip Pali."

Opposed By Forbes

"And to go back to that time, there is a curious story connected with that appointment. It was generally understood that I was to be given the appointment, but the matter dragged on for a long time before anything was done. Finally I found out what the trouble was. It was Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, who had insisted that the Governor should not appoint me. And the Governor was obeying Forbes' orders. One of the most prominent Democrats in the Territory happened to be in the executive office, and reported that he heard Forbes tell the Governor I must not be appointed."

"Finally, however, I was appointed, and the Governor made the statement that I had been appointed at the solicitation of two Republicans. One of them was Mr. Fawcett, formerly of Kauai. It seemed mighty strange to me that I should be opposed by a Democrat and appointed on recommendation of Republicans. But I accepted the office."

"When I entered the race for the senate I resigned from all the other offices in accordance with law. But before doing so I went to Mr. Pinkham's office and told him that it was customary, in case a candidate was defeated, for the Governor immediately to reappoint him to the offices he had held, and I should expect him to do so accordingly."

"After the election the Governor reappointed me to the board of supervisors and to the loan fund commission, but he wrote me that he wanted to talk over land matters with me. I couldn't imagine what he meant, and wondered why my commission as member of the land board did not arrive. The board held a meeting here in Honolulu, and I nearly came down, expecting my commission would be awaiting me here. But I didn't, or I should have been summoned, for the commission did not arrive. It never has arrived."

No Land Matters

"When the Governor came to Maui to the Maui County Fair, he was in the hands of the fair committee, and I kept quietly in the background until he sent for me. Finally his aide, Major Douglas, came to me and said the Governor wanted me to have lunch with him. I accepted, and after the luncheon was over I went into the Governor's private room and asked him what land matters he wanted to discuss with me. There was not a thing. I asked the Governor what about my reappointment to the land board, saying he would at least do that. But he didn't."

"Then I came to Honolulu and this morning went up to call on the Governor. Notwithstanding that I was about the only friend he has left, that I had stood by him through thick and thin, that I had spent my time and money in his behalf, he didn't show even ordinary courtesy. If he was busy, he might at least have come out and shaken hands and told me so."

"But no, he curtly sent me by his stenographer that he was busy and couldn't see me."

News Travels Fast

"That was the end. I had had enough. I was through. And when I got down stairs, in the basement of the Capitol, I heard that the Governor had refused to see me. How did they know 'down there'? They must have learned it in the Governor's office."

"I declared that I was going right to the hotel to resign all my territorial offices. And I did it. I wrote out my resignations and sent them in at once. They are in the hands of the Governor now."

"I'm through. I want nothing more to do with Lucius E. Pinkham. I couldn't hold any office under him. I won't support him in any way. I am absolutely pau."

News of Raymond's break with Governor Pinkham traveled rapidly in Democratic circles yesterday and caused intense amazement. Many prominent Democrats said they were unable to understand the executive's treatment of Doctor Raymond, the man who had steadfastly supported and defended him and who was almost the last friend the Governor has left. It is felt that Doctor Raymond's defection from the Pinkham standard spells ruin for the Governor and means his ultimate downfall. For with Raymond ranged among the forces of the Governor's enemies, there is virtually no one of ability or standing to defend Governor Pinkham from the increasingly bitter attacks that are being made upon him and his administration.

FAMOUS SWIMMERS ENTER CARNIVAL WATER CONTESTS

Perry McGillivray and Norman
Ross Will Be Competitors
In February Races

DOUBLE DAY MEET NOW
ASSURED SAY DIRECTORS

Duke and Other Local Stars Will Have To Stretch Themselves
To Beat Mainlanders

Two big mainland swimmers, Perry McGillivray and Norman Ross, will be competitors for untold honors at the coming Carnival water meet in February of next year.

Assurances that McGillivray would come to Honolulu yesterday. On the receipt of the cable that McGillivray was willing to come, members of the board of directors of the Carnival organization were consulted, and they immediately authorized Rawlins to wire the well-known swimmer accepting his offer.

With the coming of these two AI swimmers, the big meet next February will be a greater success than ever before. A two-day meet is now assured, the first day of the meet to be held on February 22 and the second the Saturday following, thus giving all the big swimmers an opportunity to enter and compete on both dates without any undue hardship.

McGillivray has today a greater reputation than any of the mainland water stars, holding the national hundred yard championship by negotiating the century distance in fifty-four seconds flat. In other distances he is no mean antagonist, for he has navigated the 220-yard stretch in 2:29, the 440 in 5:32 and the 300-yard distance in 3:25 1-5.

It is believed that McGillivray's main object in coming to Honolulu is to meet here Norman Ross, the great California star, who hails from Stanford University. Of course Duke Kahanamoku and Ludy Langer and other local aquatic experts will be glad of the opportunity to try conclusions with McGillivray.

It is fully expected that the coming Carnival meet will be a bumper, the greatest Honolulu has been given an opportunity of witnessing. Any meet with Duke Kahanamoku, Langer, McGillivray, Ross, George Cunha, Harold Kruger and Lane would be a drawing card anywhere in the wide world, and probably nowhere else could it be possible to bring these water speed experts together better than in Honolulu.

Added attraction to the coming meet will be furnished by Miss Aileen Allen, champion woman diver of the Pacific Coast, and Miss Dorothy Burns, also a prominent Coast mermaid, whose coming to Honolulu for the February meet is now assured. While efforts have been made to bring here for the same occasion Miss Frances Cowles and Miss Olga Dorfner, it is now quite settled that they will not come.

MACHINE GUNS AT SCHOFIELD BUSY

Squads From All Infantry Companies At Big Post Taking Instruction Course

The Schofield Barracks, target range was the scene of more activity Monday than any other place in the big post. Thirty-six Maxim automatic machine guns were at work on the range, one from each infantry company, under the general direction of the officers of the school of fire of which Maj. Henry E. Farnes, Thirty-second Infantry, is commandant.

The firing was the beginning of a progressive scheme of instruction with these weapons that will last throughout the entire week and which will, when finished, give the gun squads from the various companies of the First, Twenty-fifth and Thirty-second Infantry regiments a comprehensive idea of the powers and limitations of the guns.

Last October orders were issued by the headquarters Hawaiian department that every company of all the infantry regiments in the department would be issued one Maxim automatic machine gun, and a gun squad organized in each company under charge of the sergeants who had just taken the special machine gun course at the school of fire. In each regiment the guns were placed under the charge of officers specially detailed for the work with a view to systematizing the training.

Nine thousand rounds of ammunition per gun were immediately made available for range work with these guns and the noise of the firing on Monday sounded like a section of the Verdun line during an attack when all thirty-six of the guns were firing at once.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

When your child has whooping cough be careful to keep the cough loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as may be required. ## Austrian Officers Escape Russ To Be Taken By British

Another of the unrecorded but fascinating human stories of the war was told yesterday by exchanged German prisoners going through on the Ventura. They related the adventures of five Austrian officers who were for a short time in Liverpool Prison Camp, Australia. Starting at Lemberg, in the Austrian province of Galicia, and not yet ended, these adventures' adventures would make a cap and sword drama of antique vintage bluish with envy.

Six officers, after participating in the first Austrian retirement through Galicia, were captured by the Russians before Lemberg and sent to the Siberian prison camps. Here they remained some time but they finally perfected plans for escape, and, eluding their guards, set out for liberty through Siberia and inner China.

They encountered incredible hardships in a desolate and hostile country, hardships to which one of their number finally succumbed. The other five carried his body with them to the coast in order that it might have Christian burial. The coast was not reached easily, however, for before they saw it they were captured by Chinese bandits and their release only secured some time later by the Austrian minister.

They finally reached Shanghai and took passage on the steamer China for the United States, but were removed by the auxiliary British Cruiser Laurier. From Hongkong they were taken to Australia, and there remained until in common with the other passengers of the China, they were released at the demand of the United States government.

They went back to China but their present whereabouts is not known.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY OF INTER-ISLAND BACK FROM COAST

Returning two weeks earlier than he intended, J. A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company returned from the Coast on the liner Wilhelmina yesterday. He is his search for health short upon receipt of a cablegram advising him of the death of Vice President James A. McLean.

He stated yesterday that he had nothing to say regarding the plans of his company and that he had not had time to pick up matters. He appears to be much improved in health, and states that during his stay on the Coast he let business matters strictly alone.

In consequence, it is stated at the office of the company, there will be no meeting of the directors for several days. It is presumed that the principle matter now before them is the filling of the vice president's office.

AD CLUB BED READY NOW AT LEAHI HOME

"The Ad Club bed" is now a reality at the Leahi Home, ready for the free treatment of some unfortunate and indigent sufferer from the great white plague. Chiefly through the interest of J. Morton Riggs, Ad Club booster, the five wire civic body has endowed the bed for one year at a cost of over $500. The idea was originally that of Mrs. Riggs.

CALL FOR TENDERS

The city and county clerk is authorized by the board of supervisors last night to call for tenders for supplies for the coming six months.

JUDGE CLEMONS TO RESIGN PLACE ON BENCH NEXT MONTH

His Letter of Resignation Mailed
To Authorities At the National Capital

TERM OF OFFICE WOULD HAVE EXPIRED IN MAY

Jurist Intends To Take Up Private Practice of Law In This City Once More

Hon. Charles Frederick Clemons, senior judge of the United States district court of Hawaii, has resigned.

His written tender of resignation was mailed last Wednesday and should be in the hands of the proper authorities in Washington within a few days. According to present plans, Judge Clemons' resignation is to take effect on January 15, next.

Judge Clemons' term of office expires on May 15, of next year, but he will not wait until then to leave the bench, as he has practically accepted a very flattering offer which will bring him back into the private practice of law shortly.

He is now completing his second term of six years on the local federal bench. Judge Clemons became senior judge on the retirement a year ago of Judge Sanford B. Dole, the veteran jurist, and has shared the duties of the bench with Judge Horace W. Vaughan the past few months.

In designating January 15, next, as the date of his retirement, Judge Clemons had in view the fact that he has still in hand important litigation to settle, this being the compensation feature of the condemnation suit for the Irwin site, property recently set aside for the proposed million-dollar federal building in Honolulu.

Should it be necessary for Judge Clemons to remain on the bench somewhat longer in order to conclude this case, he will remain. This he made plain with his tender of resignation.

With the news of the resignation of Judge Clemons from the federal court is coupled the story that the Bar Association of Hawaii will be asked to endorse Wade Warren Thayer, whose resignation as Secretary of Hawaii, will take effect on January 1, next. Yet, on top of all this, certain legal circles have it that President Wilson may name E. M. Watson, who retired as one of the associate justices of the territorial supreme court last Friday, to succeed Judge Clemons. Others seem to believe that Circuit Judge Ashford will be in the running, while still others predict that Circuit Judge Edgings of Maui may have a chance.

THIS IS GET AWAY WEEK ON THE COAST

During the latter part of this week many steamers will leave the Coast for Honolulu, including the Niagara and China, of Sierra and Manoa, having left yesterday, if the schedules were followed.

It is understood that Superintendent Peters, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will be a passenger on the Niagara. He is to spend some time in the Islands. The Niagara is due to leave Vancouver within the next few days and will arrive here on the twenty-seventh, leaving the same day with the next mail for Australia and New Zealand.

The China Mail intermediate liner China will leave San Francisco next Friday and arrive here on December 27. This is a week later than was originally intended. The China's arrival, incidentally, is important to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, for she will bring the necessary parts to outfit the steamer Kiluaka back in service.

"TOO BAD JACK" BOBS UP INTO PRINT AGAIN

Kalakiela Wants Lane Cleared of Trees and Shrubs

"Banana Jack" otherwise known as "Too Bad Jack" Kalakiela emerged from retirement in Jack Lane last night to address the board of supervisors in regard to the condition of that thoroughfare. He told the solons that the trees and shrubs on both sides of the lane have grown so rank that they almost meet in the middle, and a man on foot with difficulty pass an automobile. The matter was referred to the city and county engineer, with instructions to see the property owners whose trees and shrubs are blocking the lane, and have the planks fixed.

TABERSKI RETAINS TITLE

SCHENECTADY, New York, December 3.—Frank Taberski of this city retained the pocket billiards championship last night, when he defeated Edward N. Ralph of Hightstown, New Jersey, in the final series, winning with a total 540 to 442. The score was: Taberski, 150; Ralph, 61. The high run for the three nights was 32, made by Ralph.

GARBAGE TANGLE UP TO CITY DADS

"Who Owns Dumps?" Question
Asked of Supervisors By Irate Member of Board

If the public garbage dumps don't belong to the public, to whom do they belong? And by what right do government employees on the dumps forlorn garbage to be dumped on the dumps? These questions came before the board of supervisors last night and started a discussion that developed several acts which astonished the city fathers and led to the garbage committee being instructed to investigate the situation.

Supervisor Arnold brought the matter up when he made the statement that wagon loads of tin ordered by the board of health to be taken to the public dumps had been turned back by the government employees on the dumps, who refused to let the refuse be deposited there.

Supervisor Hollinger wouldn't believe that such a thing had been done, but Arnold insisted that the knew of specific instances. He moved that the privilege of hauling garbage to the dumps be extended to all the people. Hollinger, however, vigorously resisted his motion, contending the matter ought to be referred to the health committee. Arnold finally withdrew his motion and let Hollinger have his way.

ARNOLD SHOWS HOW CITY CAN REALLY SAVE MONEY

How the city and county might save between $2000 and $3000 in the purchase of asphalt was explained last night at the meeting of the board of supervisors by Supervisor Arnold. Arnold said that asphalt can now be bought by the city and county for eighteen dollars and thirty cents a ton, and he was informed that the price was going up, and unless a contract was let before the first of the year the municipality might have to pay twenty-three dollars a ton. He thought it would be a wise thing to buy about four hundred tons now, as this amount would be needed within the next few months. The matter was referred to the ways and means committee.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSE BURNED

Just as plans had been completed for the opening of the new Japanese schoolhouse at Keolu, in some unknown manner the empty building was set on fire in the early morning of Monday last. The structure, burning to the ground, there was no insurance on the building.

Meat Eaters' Backache

Meat lovers are apt to have backaches and rheumatic attacks. Unless you do heavy work and get lots of fresh air, don't eat too much meat. It's rich in nitrogen and helps to form uric acid—a solid poison that irritates the nerves, damages the kidneys and often causes dropsy, gravel and urinary disorders. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills help weak kidneys to throw off uric acid. Thousands recommend Doan's for backache.

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and take no other. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50c a box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by The Hollister Drug Co., or Beeson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

BIG NEW MATSON STEAMERS COMING TO PORT WEEKLY

Seven-day Service To Islands
Plan of Executive Officers of Line

JOHN DREW BRINGS NEWS
OF SCHEME FROM COAST

Local Shipping Man Also Explains
Contract With American-
Hawaiian Company

A weekly service of eight and ten thousand ton liners with San Francisco and with additional service on a schedule to be arranged in the future; the cleaning up of freight congestion in San Francisco, and a visit from the biggest business men in the country in March are three of the things assured to Honolulu by John H. Drew, head of the shipping department of Castle & Cooke. Mr. Drew returned yesterday on the Matson liner Wilhelmmina, upon which he made the round trip to San Francisco.

Mr. Drew also brought definite information regarding the relations of the Matson Navigation Company, for whom his company is Honolulu agent, with the American-Hawaiian company. The stories to the effect that the Matson vessels were going to take over the carrying contract of the American-Hawaiian company with the sugar factors had been an untrue.

"I was told on the Coast," said Mr. Drew, yesterday, "that the American-Hawaiian company would resume its service with the Islands the latter part of January. Up to that time the Matson company will carry all the sugar involved in these contracts and this probably gives rise to the story that we will take over the American-Hawaiian contract."

"I understand that the American-Hawaiian company is going to resume the service it maintained last year. This service was of two vessels and two vessels of the Texan type, I believe, will be placed on this route, although the names were not announced."

"Captain Matson is not negotiating for any additional tonnage for the simple reason that there is no additional tonnage to get. On the other hand he has had flattering offers for some of his own vessels but has no intention of selling at present."

"Additional tonnage will, of course, be added to the Matson service when the new ten-thousand ton steamer Maui starts its regular service between San Francisco and Honolulu. This vessel will be launched next Saturday, December 23. E. D. Tenney, of this company, with Mrs. Tenney, will attend the ceremony and shortly after return to Honolulu."

"The Maui will leave San Francisco on its maiden voyage to the Islands on March 7 next year. On board will be Captain William Matson himself, and Mrs. Matson and a large party of the biggest business men of the United States. The arrival of the Maui, I have no doubt, will be an event in Honolulu's business and commercial history."

"The Maui will take the run of the liner Wilhelmmina and the latter vessel will be placed on the schedule now followed by the Lurline. The weekly service will thus be maintained but with bigger and better ships than ever. The fleet will consist of the Matsonia and Maui of 10,000 tons each and the Wilhelmmina and Manoa of 8,000 tons each. The Lurline will thus be free for a new schedule but this schedule has not been made up yet. She will be continued on the Honolulu service, however."

"It is safe to say, also, that the freight congestion on the San Francisco wharves will be over within the next two weeks. If it had not been for the Lurline's accident which laid that vessel up for one trip, the congestion would have been non-existent at the present time. There has been no announcement yet as to whether or not the Hydades and Hilonian, which have been used to help break the congestion, will be restored to the triangular route between San Francisco and Honolulu."

WORK OF BLIND CHILDREN SOLD TO ASSIST SCHOOL

Useful and pretty Christmas gifts made by the deaf, dumb and blind children of Honolulu, are on exhibit in the window of the Regal Shoe Store at Fort and Hotel Streets. The articles will be sold just above the actual cost of the material. Many kinds of woven work are shown, including baskets and hammocks. The proceeds of the sale will go toward paying for the tuition of the children for the coming year.

MERCHANTS FILE COMPLAINT

The dust nuisance on Queen Street was the subject of a communication signed by fourteen Queen Street business firms, which was read at the meeting of the supervisors last night. The merchants complained that the dust rendered their offices filthy. Supervisor Arnold said the road board would try to act as janitor for the firms and see what could be done towards cleaning up their places.

ASK MORE PAY

A petition signed by fourteen men in the employ of the city garbage department, asking that "on account of the high cost of living" they be given a raise of fifty cents a day, was received by the board of supervisors last night. It was referred to the garbage committee.
